There was a very lively meeting of the Brookland Citizens' Association last even-ing, when an effort was made to get up the report of the committee on parks. The as-sociation is divided on the subject of the location of the park, those in the southern part of the village favoring old Bunker Hill, while many others living in the northern section prefer to have the public reservation located among them.

Capt. Beach, the Engineer Commissioner had asked the association to express its had asked the association to express its preference as to the location of the park. When Rev. R. R. West attempted to get the question of the park before the meeting last evening he was voted down and the matter was deferred until the next meeting of the association. An interesting feature of the meeting was the fact that there were twenty-two persons proposed for membership in the association, all of them being residents of the southern part of the village. An effort was made to make them members at once in order that they might vote on the subject of the park location, but this effort was defeated, and action on their admission was defeated until the next meeting.
